

CLIMATE › ENVIRONMENT › JUSTICE

In the spirit of Native American consideration for the “seventh generation,” our decisions should recognize impacts over time that will affect future generations.

We must act with forethought and fairness now to insure the future well-being of the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.

photo: NASA